Data obtained from local authorities (coast guards, sheriff's offices, medical examiners), interviews with survivors provided by IOM field offices, United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR), nongovernmental organizations (NGOs) and media reports.

Migration: some figures and facts (IOM)

- Number of international migrants worldwide
 - 2015: 244 million
 - 2013: 232 million
 - 2010: 214 million
 - 2000: 173 million
- 3,1% of the world population or 1/33 (+/- stable)
 - Strong regional differences
 - Qatar: 87% vs. Indonesia: 0,1%)
- 48% of all migrants are women
 - Asia: 42%
 - Europe 52.4%
 - North America 51.2%

Evolution of the number of international migrants (2000-2015)

The expected evolution of the number of international migrants

Migration: some figures and facts (IOM & UN)

- 22,5 million international refugees (Mid 2015; 15,1)
- 38 million Internally displaced persons (2015)
- 55% of all refugees came from 3 countries (South Sudan, Afghanistan, Syria)
- Two thirds (67%) of all international migrants were living in just 20 countries (2015)
 - USA: 47 million (or 19% of the world's total).
 - Germany: 12 million
 - Russian federation: 12 Million
 - Saudi Arabia: 10 million
- Most migrants worldwide originate from middle-income countries (157 million in 2015).

Migration: some figures and facts (IOM & UN)

- Between 2000 and 2015, positive net migration contributed to 42% of the population growth in Northern America and 32% in Oceania.
- In Europe the size of the population would have fallen between 2000 and 2015 in the absence of positive net migration.

Population development in some European countries (2010-2060)

Growth

- Ireland (+ 46 %)
- Luxembourg (+ 45 %)
- Cyprus (+ 41 %)
- UK (+ 27 %)
- Belgium (+ 24 %)*

Decline

- Bulgaria (- 27 %)
- Latvia (- 26 %)
- Lithuania (- 20 %)
- Romania (- 19 %)
- Germany (- 19 %)

2. WHY ARE PEOPLE MIGRATING?

Many different causes ...

Rich vs Poor

- Last year: the world's richest 66 people were as wealthy as the 3,6 billion poorest
- This figure dropped to 8 since the poverty situation in India and China is worse than previously estimated
- The 1% richest people own more than the rest of the world population together.

3. WHY IS MIGRATION (NOW) CONSIDERED AS A PROBLEM?

Why migration is a problem (now)

- First: Thomas theorem: If men define situations as real, they are real in their consequences.
- Second: there is a lot at stake

- Universal declaration of Human rights
- Article 23.
 - (1) Everyone has the right to work, to free choice of employment, to just and favourable conditions of work and to protection against unemployment.
 - (2) Everyone, without any discrimination, has the right to equal pay for equal work.
 - (3) Everyone who works has the right to just and favourable remuneration ensuring for himself and his family an existence worthy of human dignity, and supplemented, if necessary, by other means of social protection.
 - (4) Everyone has the right to form and to join trade unions for the protection of his interests.

... and on the other hand

- Universal declaration of Human rights
- Article 25
 1. Everyone has the right to a standard of living adequate for the health and well-being of himself and of his family, including food, clothing, housing and medical care and necessary social services, and the right to security in the event of unemployment, sickness, disability, widowhood, old age or other lack of livelihood in circumstances beyond his control.
 2. Motherhood and childhood are entitled to special care and assistance. All children, whether born in or out of wedlock, shall enjoy the same social protection.

... And on the other hand

- Universal declaration of Human rights
- Article 28.
Everyone is entitled to a social and international order in which the rights and freedoms set forth in this Declaration can be fully realized.

WIR SCHAFFEN DAS!

memegenerator.net

- Managing the shape and dynamics of future immigration flows to make them appropriate for the EU economy can prove difficult in practice as immigration is caused by multiple factors which can be beyond the scope of any single public authority.
- However, governments increasingly recognise that a more pro-active and forward-looking approach to immigration is needed to facilitate integration into employment and that, unless a more open approach is taken to legal immigration, the EU may be faced with increasing pressures, running the risk of increased illegal immigration.

European Council of June 2007

"recent events have demonstrated once again the need to make rapid progress in developing a comprehensive European migration policy based on common political principles, capable of taking account of all aspects of migration, based on a genuine partnership with third countries and fully Integrated into the Union's external policies"

9.CONCLUSIONS

Conclusions: Eastern European Migration

- The last decade, migration from EEC grew significantly despite limited labour market opportunities.
- Until 01 01 2014 there were transitory measures that hampered a free access on the EU labour market.
- The GNI/c and minimum wages of EEC countries are far below the rest of the EU.
- The distances between the EEC countries and other EU countries are short and fares are low.

Conclusions: Eastern European Migration

- Officials like Romania's (former) labour minister Mariana Câmpeanu say that Romania is facing labour shortage in the near future.
- But theory, nor the extrapolation of evolutions gives any evidence that migration from Eastern European Countries will decline in the near future. On the contrary.
- The challenge is how to improve the situation of groups that are and cannot be clearly defined and how to implement explicit but not exclusive targeting

Some general conclusions

- Migration is high on the political agenda and will stay there
- The number of international migrants steadily increases
- National policies can't tackle the causes of migration
- Migration policy, integration policy, foreign policy, development policy, ... are all related
- Large scale migration of today is the export of the problems of the developing world
- All measures to reduce migration will increase the phenomenon
- The more people are in the need of protection, the more countries are reluctant to welcome them.

And finally

“Minds are like parachutes - they only function when open.”

Thomas Dewar

But:

This doesn't resolve the migration crisis.

And we didn't say a word about integration ...
